BUT FEW ON THE STREETS

Last Night's Cold Wave Forces People to Remain by the Fireside.

Mercury Takes a Tumble and Registers from 4 to 10 Degrees Below Zero.

But few people were on the streets today. Business was dull and people were forced by last night's cold wave to remain indoors where they could sit in comfort by the fire. As has been predicted, the wave which has for some time been coming this way from the north and west has finally struck our city and driven the people to cover.

The thermometer began to tumble yesterday afternoon and towards morning was going down at the rate of 2 degrees an hour. At 5 o'clock this morning the large thermometer at the Windsor hotel registered 4 degrees below zero. At six o'clock, thermometers in the northwestern part of town averaged 7 below. Some thermometers in town registered 10 degrees below zero. At 7 o'clock thermometers in different parts of town registered from 7 to 10 degrees. The average number of degrees registered by thermometers about town, protected and unprotected ones considered, was 7 degrees. From 7 o'clock the mercury rose steadily until it stood at 10 degrees above zero at 10 o'clock a. m.

In some places the gas was low, but as a rule the gas fires throughout the entire city were burning as usual, and the cold caused but little inconvenience.

The people should prepare for what is to follow. The weather man says that there will come another cold wave tonight and that snow will fall tomorrow. If the weather man does not prove himself to be a prevaricator, we will not be surprised at anything that comes.

TELEPHONE WAR AT NEW CASTLE

The physicians of New Castle have set on foot a war on the two telephone companies of the town, as they think it is an imposition to have to pay for four telephones, two at the office and two at the house, making a cost of $72 per year.

Monday afternoon some of the physicians commenced circulating a petition among the merchants to get them to sign that they will support but one telephone hereafter. They have no choice, but if enough merchants sign, one or the other of the telephone companies will give in. They declare that one telephone company in town is enough, and that it is an imposition, as the physicians are about the only class who have to have both telephones at the house and office. This action is taken by the physicians, as the Bell Telephone Co. raised the office rate for physicians from one to two dollars the first of this year.

POSTMASTER AT GREENFIELD

Greenfield Tribune: Deputy Postmaster Walter G. Bridges has received a letter from Congressman James E. Watson, saying that he will recommend Mr. Bridges for postmaster at Greenfield, upon the expiration of Postmaster Spencer's term, which will not be until June, 1906. Mr. Bridges is the present efficient deputy and will make a good postmaster.

Business men are anticipating still greater prosperity in 1905, although many of them will be puzzled to find room for it.

Addressed the Institute.

In its account of the Fayette County Farmers' Institute which began yesterday and continues today and regarding T. A. Coleman's talk, says: T. A. Coleman, of Rush county, one of the State lecturers before the Farmers' Institute was introduced and delivered a lecture on the "Varieties of Live Stock, and Why." He said any one would be a better man if he would raise the better grades instead of the ordinary scrub stock. All would succeed better financially with registered stock. The same care will give better results and be more satisfactory. He mentioned the Manloves as being very successful in raising and marketing the best kinds of hogs. Every farmer should be a member of the county association, for the social advantages if nothing else. All should attend swine breeders' shows for their own improvement and profit. A farmer will succeed better by taking only one line of stock and devote his attention to that than to take several kinds. One should always select the special kind of stock he likes best, because being better satisfied he will succeed better. Some men like horses the best, and some hogs; others, cattle or sheep and each should give his attention to the kind he likes the best and let others alone. He said many other things that hundreds of farmers should have been there to hear.

NARROW ESCAPE

Jessie Reddick and Party Came Nearly Drowning Near Carthage.

About 11:30 o'clock last night as Jesse Reddick, proprietor of the Elk saloon in this city, and two lady friends were returning from a party at Carthage, they met with a narrow escape from drowning.

As the party was fording the little branch running out from Blue River, near George Glendenning's artesian well, south of Carthage, the horse broke the ice and went down into a deep hole with the icy waters flowing over his back. In his struggle to get out the horse came near upsetting the buggy. Mr. Reddick saw the danger and leaping into the water, swam about with the water up to his neck and cut the horse loose from the buggy.

The ladies were rescued with but little difficulty and without being caused much inconvenience. The horse was taken to Mr. Glendenning's stable nearby, where it was blanketed and left over night. Mr. Reddick obtained a complete change of clothing and was with the remainder of the party, compelled to remain over night.

MYSTERIOUS HOTEL FIRE

A mystery surrounds the burning of the new Portland Hotel, at Portland, Ind., last Saturday night. At 7 o'clock some one called the Portland telephone operator from Ridgeville, twelve miles away, and asked how the fire was. The local operator answered that there was no fire, whereupon he replied that he had heard the New Portland Hotel was on fire. Three hours and ten minutes later an alarm was turned in, and the hotel was burned. The fellow gave his name as Parsons, and said his home was in Connorsville.

He was in Portland Friday night, going to Ridgeville Saturday morning. The local authorities are investigating the whereabouts of the man giving his name as Parsons, and the Connorsville police were asked to assist in the investigation.

BOY SMOKERS TO BE ARRESTED

The Petersburg city council has ordered City Marshal Meredith Masters to arrest all boy smokers. This is done in order to help the school board to suppress cigarette smoking among the pupils of the city schools. One pupil has had paralysis of the face and another has almost lost his voice by excessive use of the weed.

AN EPIDEMIC OF LA GRIPPE

The Change of Weather Causes Many People to be Sick.

Physicians Report Many Cases and are Very Busy—Cases Not Serious.

A large number of Rushville's citizens are suffering from grip. There seems to be quite an epidemic and the physicians are kept constantly busy treating the sick. It is estimated that there are in the neighborhood of one hundred cases of grip in the city at the present time. None of the cases have as yet proved to be very serious and no fatalities have resulted. But a third or more of the patients are confined to their beds, and the remaining cases are being disposed of in from three to seven days' time. The epidemic which has been growing since last week is believed to be due to the repeated changes in the weather and partly to the time of year. Grip always develops more or less at this period of the winter.

The number of grip cases is not believed to be increasing any at the present time, but the number of new cases balances the number cases of reported cured. The epidemic is holding its own and will, it is believed, continue to do so for some time.

All the diphtheria cases have been cured, and as far as can be learned there is none of that in the city at the present time. There are a few scarlet fever cases and a number of cases of whooping cough and chicken pox, but none of them are of a serious nature.

HONOR FOR DANIEL REID

Daniel G. Reid, the well known railroad magnate, financier and yachtman of Richmond, Ind., is the next commodore of the Atlantic Yacht club of Sea Gate. Harrison B. Moore, the present senior flag officer of the club, will not accept the position of commodore again because of ill health. The general opinion in yachting circles here and at the New York Yacht club house is that in securing Reid the nominating committee has secured one of the strongest men for the leader of the club that could be found anywhere in the east today. Mr. Reid owns the steam yacht Rheclair, one of the most complete and palatial crafts afloat today. It is 213 feet long by 27 beams, built in 1902. F. I. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad and owner of the steam yacht Alice, will be Mr. Reid's vice-commodore.

USEFUL INVENTION

The New Castle Courier in a late issue says that Albert W. Hammer, of New Castle, has received word from his patent attorneys at Washington, D. C., stating that his invention had been favorably passed upon and that a patent would be granted on it soon. The invention is a switch to be attached to a party telephone line and when anyone is talking all eavesdroppers are cut out by means of the switch, which works automatically by the receiver being taken down and put back in place.

The invention has been put into practical use on party lines by Mr. Hammer and it proved to be a success in every particular. It is a wonderful invention and will no doubt be a money maker for Mr. Hammer when the patent is granted.

The Duke of Norfolk, one of the richest men in Great Britain has a daily income of somewhere between $10,000 and $15,000, but until a short time ago he had never taken a ride in a motor car. At the conclusion of the run which was taken with a friend, he expressed much pleasure at the experience and asked what the cost of the car was. On being told that it was $5000 he said thoughtfully: "Ah, I shall wait until they become cheaper before buying one."

War on Corn Shredders.

The Indiana general assembly may take up arms against the deadly octopus of the farmer. That does not mean that there may be trust legislation, or that monopolies will be attacked. Those are not the octopuses that fill the lives of farmers with dread. More fearful yet is the insatiable appetite of the creature into whose gaping maw farmers' fingers and arms are forever dropping to pay the toll of carelessness.

The hungry corn shredder is to be legislated on. Representative William Colvert, of Fountain county, may instigate the fight against the shredder, though he says that he has not fully determined whether to do it or not. He has been urged by his constituents, he says, to obtain the passage of a measure to protect the farmers from the finger shredder. He is regarded by them as a peculiarly fit person to present the bill for the reason that his brother suffered the loss of an arm in a corn shredder a few weeks ago.

The law that is desired is one that will compel manufacturers to place safety appliances on all corn shredders manufactured and will make it a misdemeanor for any owner of a machine to permit its operation without such safeguards.

RARE JUDGMENT

Was Shown by Sparks Cantwell in Making up the House Committees.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—With the announcement of his committee appointments today, Speaker Cantwell enabled the house to get down to work in earnest. Nothing could be done until the committees were formed. The speaker's selections met with general satisfaction, although a few members were found who were not satisfied with their appointments. Most of the dissatisfied ones were those who had failed to land coveted chairmanships. It is generally agreed that the speaker in making his appointments, showed rare judgment and foresight. The abilities of the members, together with their past legislative experience, were important factors, he said, in determining his appointments.

The first roll-call for new bills will come tomorrow and a deluge of bills is expected. Nearly every member in both branches of the legislature has some sort of legislation under consideration, and fully 100 bills are expected to be on file within a short time after the first call is made. The codification commission, by its two years of investigation, has recommended legislation on many matters that otherwise would have been taken up and proposed by individual members. The codification of the criminal code covers a multitude of subjects that have come up for consideration in past legislatures.

Both Speaker Cantwell and Lieutenant Governor Miller have expressed the hope that their branches will be in the midst of serious business within the next few days. Apparently they are very anxious that the present general assembly make a record for itself in the way of wise legislation.

It is becoming more evident each day that the Democratic minorities in both branches will confine their efforts to non-partisan legislation, knowing it to be useless to attempt to force through measures. A number of the Democratic members of the house have sought the advice of Republican members on bills that they propose to introduce, and in several cases the Republicans have promised them their active support.

GIRL SUICIDE

New Albany, Ind., Jan. 10.—Emma Bell, eighteen years old, daughter of Philip Bell of Elizabeth, Harrison county, committed suicide at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Muir, in this city, where she had been employed as a nurse girl. She had been living here for several months and was despondent because her father had notified her that he was coming here to take her home. She took morphine and laudanum some time during the night, and died at noon, just as her father reached the house.

SECOND CAR HAS ARRIVED

Came in This Morning and Will be Put Together Tomorrow.

The Service to Morristown Will Hardly be Established Before a Week.

The second of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction company's ten new cars, arrived this morning over the C. H. & D. from the shops of the St. Louis Car company, where it was built, and was transferred to the car barns this afternoon.

The second car is exactly like the first, except that it is of different number, and was loaded in precisely the same manner—the trucks on one car and the bed on another. The flat cars were transferred from the C. H. & D. to the I. & C. tracks at the Hackleman switch and brought through the city on the right of the double tracks. No difficulty was therefore experienced in getting them around the curves. Workmen had been at work all day on this track cleaning it off and making it ready.

To a representative of the Republican today, Mr. Anderson, the road's general superintendent, stated that a week would probably elapse before the service to Morristown was established. Some time will be required to set the second car up and then two days will probably be required to get it in proper working order. "The weather," said Mr. Anderson, "is entirely too bad to think of starting the service now."

DEMENTED MAN IS IDENTIFIED

The demented stranger who has been held in the county jail at Greensburg for several days, suffering from concussion of the brain, was identified Sunday as William Barance, of Ripley county. He was identified by several former residents of that county and later in the afternoon the Greensburg Marshal received a postal card from the superintendent of the Ripley county infirmary asking for information concerning the same man.

Barance is insane and is an inmate of the county farm located near New Marion in Ripley county. He has been missing from that place since five o'clock on last Wednesday evening. He appeared in St. Paul on Thursday afternoon with a broken nose and an ugly wound at the side of his head. It is thought that he was injured by falling from a freight train. He will be held at Greensburg until his injuries will permit him to return to Ripley county.

COL. MEREDITH WILL REMAIN

A good many men are coveting the office of chief of the bureau of printing and engraving, at Washington, but it seems certain that Col. William M. Meredith, of Wayne county, the present chief of the bureau, will not be disturbed. The treasury department, to which the bureau is attached, places great value on the service of Col. Meredith. He is regarded as one of the most efficient chiefs ever at the head of the bureau. He has held the position since 1889. The printing of the government's money carries great responsibility and the administration never puts the place at the disposal of the politicians.

An engineer declares that 50,000 people now do work with the aid of machinery which needed 16,000,000 persons to do a few years ago.

A flower trust has appeared in New York. Even behind the modest violet and spicy carnation lurks the indefatigable octopus.

The Lawton Monument.

Colonel Clarence Edwards, of Washington, chief of the Insular Bureau, who was General Lawton's most trusted friend and his chief of staff, expresses the hope that the State of Indiana will not allow any suggestions to a statue to General Lawton in Indianapolis interfere with the movement or an appropriation or a suitable monument at Arlington cemetery. If "Indiana intends to honor his memory, the place for its memorial is at his grave," he said. Colonel Edwards' view reflects the ideas of Lawton's soldiers, who, now that the subject is being agitated, are flooding the colonel with letters protesting against longer neglect of Lawton's grave.

SCHOOL AND HEALTH

Interesting Movement to Provide Physical Training in State's Schools.

Goshen, Ind., Jan. 10.—Prof. Victor Hedgepeth, superintendent of schools at this place, has built up an educational system that has attracted very wide attention. He has some very pronounced ideas with regard to physical training, which he emphasized in an address delivered at the recent session of the Indiana State Teachers' association, and which created so favorable an impression in the minds of the state's educators that efforts are being made with a view to providing physical instruction in the schools of the state through legislation by the general assembly. The need of larger development of the physical element in the schools has latterly become so apparent that the outcome of this engaging movement is awaited with no small interest. "Let us build the gymnasium," says Prof. Hedgepeth. "Let us build the bath, let us open the windows to the fresh air, and let us be strong, for, after all, 'What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world of knowledge and lose his own health?'"

STATE NEWS.

Petersburg, Ind., Jan. 10.—Clinton Malott, upon visiting his henney, found several of his finest Plymouth Rock chickens missing, while on the floor was a set of false teeth, which a local dentist identified as belonging to a woman in this city. Malott still has the teeth, which he is willing to exchange for the chickens.

Fell and Broke His Neck. Hammond, Ind., Jan. 10.—James Moran, while ascending a stairway at his boarding house at Indiana Harbor, fell backward from the second step, breaking his neck and causing instant death.

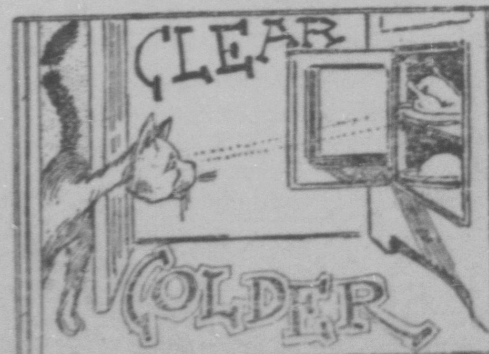

Death in Hunting Accident. Lawrenceburg, Ind., Jan. 10.—John Bowman, accidentally shot while hunting, is dead of blood poison.

WHAT

PEOPLE SAY

A young man, so the story goes, had a sister named Jessie, who was sent to a fashionable boarding school. When she went, he remarked that she would not acquire affectation learned at such places. For about a year he had no fault to find on that score. Then came a letter signed "Jessie" instead of Jessie. He replied as follows: "Your welcome letter received. Papica and manica are both well and Aunt Maryica and Georgia started for California yesterday. I bought a new horsica. It is a beaticica. Its name is Nannica. Your affectionate brother, Sammica."

Cotton growing appears to be a pretty good occupation after all. In a dozen years the exports of cottonseed oil have increased in value from $10,000,000 to $14,000,000 and of cottonseed meal from $4,000,000 to $12,000,000.

Tom Watson, the late Populist candidate for President will continue his propaganda, and to this end will begin the publication of a magazine, to be named "Tom Watson's Magazine." The first number is to appear in February.

One of the last acts of Governor Durbin before retiring from office was to parole the Rev. Wm. E. Hinshaw. We believe the governor was fully justified in this act of clemency, as the case was too deeply involved in mystery, and there was too much doubt as to his guilt.

Germany, though its population has largely increased, allows to decline in its forest lands. The Germans have mastered the vital importance of trees and reduced the matter to a government science. In this respect they are ahead of the rest of the world.

Governor Hanly's message to the legislature is a very vigorous document and shows that he has some well defined views on State affairs. He pledges himself to the non-partisan control and management of State institutions and calls for "same economy," declaring it to be "extravagance to refuse actual needs. Governor Durbin sent an excellent message to the legislature upon his retirement and another excellent message is the one by Governor Hanly on coming into office. The two messages testify to the excellence of Indiana governors.

NOT ENTIRELY BROKE

Mrs. Chadwick Has Assets of About $100,000.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 10.—Nathan Looser, the receiver appointed by the United States district court for Mrs. C. L. Chadwick, has returned here from New York, where he spent a week looking for property belonging to the Chadwick estate. Mr. Looser said he had made a thorough search in the East for assets and had obtained considerable information along certain lines, the nature of which, however, he was not at liberty to make public.

"The property which I have in my possession now," said Mr. Looser, "including the house, real estate and household effects, ought, if sold, to bring about $100,000. There is a real estate mortgage of $35,000 on that and a chattel mortgage of $7,000."

CONGRESSIONAL DOINGS

The Inaugural Ball Will Be Held in Pension Building.

Washington, Jan. 10.—After the passage of the omnibus claims bill and fixing Jan. 28 for the delivery of addresses in memory of the late Senator Hoar, the senate devoted the day to the statehood bill. Mr. Morgan spoke for two hours against the bill. The house adopted the senate resolution providing among other things for the holding of the inaugural ball in the pension building. On a viva voce vote the resolution was lost, but a roll-call enabled those favorable to the pension building to muster their strength and pass it. Speaker Cannon and several of the Republican leaders recorded themselves as being opposed to the idea of the employment of the pension building for the purpose of the inaugural ball.

NOW UNDER WAY

Powerful Fleet Off for Scene of Winter Maneuvers.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 10.—Heads by the first-class battleship Kearsarge flying the blue pennant of Rear Admiral A. S. Barker, eighteen warships of the United States navy are today on their way down the coast to the winter maneuvering grounds after having been inspected and reviewed in Hampton Roads by Secretary of Navy Paul Morton and Admiral George Dewey. The fleet, made up of the battleship, coast and Caribbean squadrons, and the second flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers, is one of the most powerful ever gathered in Hampton Roads under the American flag.

A ROW AND A RUMPUS

Democratic Legislators All Spilt Up Over an Empty Honor.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—Both parties will hold their senatorial caucuses Wednesday night, the Republicans at the statehouse and the Democrats at the Grand hotel. At the Republican caucus William Bosson, representative from Marion county, will be elected joint caucus chairman. His election has been assured since the house caucus last Wednesday night, when he received the endorsement of the members of that body. The caucus will transact its business very quickly. The names of Albert J. Beveridge and James A. Hemenway will be presented and voted upon as the Republican nominees. No nominating speeches will be made.

Lively times are expected at the Democratic caucus. No program has been arranged, and it is expected that there will be a contest between the members of the caucus and Thomas Taggart, Democratic national chairman, over the naming of the two Democrats who are to be placed in nomination in the legislature on Jan. 17 for the office of United States senators. It is said that the majority of the members favor John W. Kern of Indianapolis and B. F. Shively of South Bend. Taggart is opposed to Shively and would substitute John E. Lamb of Terre Haute.

The Hon. Frank Posey of Evansville, who has been in Indianapolis attending the inaugural ceremonies and greeting old political friends, does not believe that his fellow-townsmen George A. Cunningham, Republican chairman of the First district, will be the successor of Congressman Hemenway when the latter resigns shortly to accept a seat in the United States senate. Mr. Posey declares that he himself will take Hemenway's place, and in making a statement to this effect he has expressed confidence that he will defeat Cunningham and John W. Brady for the nomination. Mr. Posey expects his strongest support to come from the business men of the First district. In his home city business men are supporting him solidly. Cunningham is being supported by the politicians and their support is causing him to be looked upon as the most formidable candidate. Mr. Posey will try to prevail upon Governor Hanly not to call a special election until early in May. The Evansville city election, coming in April, makes it undesirable that the congressional election should come during the same month.

The honor of carrying Indiana's electoral vote to the president of the senate of the United States has fallen to Joseph D. Oliver, president of the Oliver Plow company of South Bend, and he will be on his way to the nation's capital Wednesday. Mr. Oliver was one of the state's two electors-at-large and his election was made unanimous by the members of the electoral delegation when they met Monday to cast their formal votes. Mr. Oliver has been prominent in Republican politics for many years. He is one of the heaviest contributors to campaign funds, both in St. Joseph county and to the Republican state committee.

Governor Durbin was presented with a $750 Purdy gun at a banquet tendered him at the Columbia Club Monday night by members of his staff. The gun was imported from London and is said to be one of the finest ever brought into the country. On a silver plate on the stock are the words: "To His Excellency, Winfield T. Durbin, in Appreciation, from Members of His Staff." At the banquet was the entire staff, numbering twenty-five men. At the close of the inaugural exercises Monday afternoon Colonel Durbin gave a luncheon at the Hotel English for the staff. Mrs. Durbin was present.

Much interest has been aroused over the state by the avowed candidacy of Thomas E. Carter, clerk of the state printing board, for the position of government printer. The qualifications for the latter important position are possessed by Mr. Carter in a large degree and his many Indiana friends would hail the gratification of his ambition with general expressions of satisfaction.

The Fall River Strike.

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 10.—The cotton mills claim to have made large gains upon the beginning of the 25th week of the strike, but labor leaders say that all gains have been offset by losses from among those who previously had gone in. There is no change in the general situation. The labor men express a willingness to arbitrate.

Life Prisoner Paroled.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—Governor Durbin yesterday unconditionally paroled the Rev. William E. Hinshaw from the Michigan City prison, where he was serving a life sentence on a charge of murdering his wife. It was his last official act before retiring from office.

SORRY SPECTACLE TO FILE CONTEST

There Was Much That Was Pathetic About Garrison's Evacuation.

JAPANESE HUMANITY

The Greatest Respect and Kindness Were Shown Prisoners by Big-Hearted Captors.

Appearance of the Captives Indicated Awful Physical Strain They Had Undergone.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army at Port Arthur, via Yinkow and Tientsin, Jan. 10.—Five thousand men of the Russian garrison at Port Arthur were marched from the village of Yahutsui on the shores of Pigeon bay, for fifteen miles to the railway station at Changlingtzu at 3 o'clock, and the other detachments followed soon after. Each detachment was accompanied by six loaded transport carts. The Russians during the night were taken on special trains of open trucks to Dainy and there they immediately embarked for Japan on transports waiting in that port.

The long procession of the remnants of the gallant Russian garrison was a pathetic spectacle. The first arrivals at Changlingtzu were four droskies, drawn by sorry-looking horses. They contained the staff officers who had refused to give their parole. All wore their swords, as they were allowed to do under the terms of the capitulation compact. A few minutes later the first detachment arrived. The regimental officers marched with their men, their heads bowed and their faces seamed with lines, showing the result of the mental and physical strain they had undergone during the long defense.

As the Japanese soldiers crowded about them with evident curiosity, the faces of the Russian officers were an interesting study. All of them appeared to feel their humiliating position keenly, and though some seemed to be resigned to their situation, others were resentful at being regarded with curiosity. The men looked to be well fed, but their faces, like those of the officers, indicated the awful physical strain they had undergone. The officers were clean and well clothed, but the men were clad in dirty-looking sheepskin coats and appeared to be resigned and glad that the end had come. The horses drawing the transport carts were suffering with fatigue, though the loads were small. They were tied to the carts and led by orderlies. In the procession were many lean-looking pet dogs belonging to the officers. In many cases officers refused to wear their swords, but had them carried behind them by orderlies. The officers saluted the European and American correspondents with the Japanese army and appeared to be both pleased and astonished at seeing the Europeans and Americans there.

The prisoners were treated with the greatest respect and kindness, though they were regarded with much natural curiosity. The soldiers were given food, cigarettes and beer and the correspondent even saw Japanese soldiers voluntarily carrying the effects of the prisoners when they were overcome by fatigue. The railway has been repaired and gauge changed almost to the city of Port Arthur, into which trains will enter in a few days. Telephone and telegraph lines have been completed to the city, and already Japanese engineers are surveying the destroyed forts of the eastern fortified ridges.

Kite Line Gave News.

Huanchan, Jan. 10, via Mukden.—The news of the fall of Port Arthur was received here first unofficially from the Japanese, who let loose numerous kites bearing letters and triumphal inscriptions. These kites were picked up by Russian soldiers long before the telegraph gave them the news. The army received the announcement doggedly, regret being expressed that the troops had been unable to relieve the garrison; but confidence is felt that ultimately the Russians will be able to push back the Japanese and reach the fortress from the north.

Japs Were Pushed Back.

Mukden, Jan. 10.—The past two days the Japanese have made two unsuccessful attempts to break through the Russian advance lines. The weather has been warm and spring-like for some days, and overcoats have been discarded by many.

Two Held Up Six.

Decatur, Ala., Jan. 10.—Armed with Winchester rifles, a brace of revolvers and with masks covering their faces, two unknown men robbed six men who were engaged in playing poker on a houseboat on the Tennessee river, thirty miles above here. About a thousand dollars in diamonds and jewelry and $400 in cash was secured. The robbers escaped.

Re-elected Without Opposition.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—At the annual election of officials of the Chicago board of trade William S. Jackson was re-elected president, there being no opposition. The election was one of the quietest ever seen on the floor of the board.

Alva Adams Is Inaugurated Governor of Colorado Under Protest.

A PROTRACTED HEARING

It Will Take Several Weeks For the Legislature to Determine the Contested Election.

For the Present, However, the Dove of Peace Has Settled on Capitol Dome.

Denver, Jan. 10.—With the exception of the contest for the governorship which will be filed by Governor Peabody tomorrow, and the hearing of which will continue through several weeks, the political troubles of Colorado that are of particular interest to the outside world have been settled, and Alva Adams was inaugurated as governor today. There is no sign of trouble now, and unless a violent counter current strikes in from some unexpected direction, there will be no trouble in the future.

Representative Griffiths' dove of peace, which had such strenuous experiences last Saturday after he announced her arrival, is now, according to that gentleman, firmly perched on the capitol dome.

"She's there, all right," said Griffiths, "but you know how it is in politics. Something may come up some day and some fellow may shoot the stuffin' out of her. There is no reason why anybody should do it, and if anybody does, he's no gentleman."

The last fight was waged Monday in the senate, when Luther M. Goddard of Denver and George W. Bailey of Fort Collins, who were nominated by Governor Peabody for the supreme bench, were confirmed after a hard fight.

DEADLOCK UNDATED

Delaware Legislature Seems to Be Up Against It.

Dover, Del., Jan. 10.—Twenty-one ballots in the house of representatives and 39 in the senate, together with the presence of practically all the state Republican leaders failed to break or even indent the deadlock organization of the Delaware legislature. Adding gravity to the situation comes a reaffirmation by the judges of their decision that the legislature must begin today balloting for United States senator. The Democrats threaten to walk out, which will also drive the regulars out for fear that the Unions will outnumber them and elect J. Edward Addicks. Senator Allee sticks to his opinion and quotes several United States senators in support of it, that balloting should not begin today, the extraordinary session of the legislature having eliminated the point of the organization of the legislature from the calculation by its sine die adjournment. Another disappointing feature of the deadlock is the abandonment of all plans for the inauguration ceremonies next Tuesday except Governor-elect Lea's private arrangement for an evening reception and ball.

Texas Needs the Money.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 10.—The twenty-ninth Texas legislature convened at noon today in regular session. The present session is an important one. In addition to providing for the next two years it will have to make good a deficit of nearly $2,000,000, making the total amount necessary some eight or ten million dollars. In order to meet these requirements it will be necessary to thoroughly revise the taxation system of the state.

Fire Drove Operator Out.

"BEN HUR."

The Grandest Spectacle of the Century to be Staged in Cincinnati.

Klaw & Erlanger's massive and magnificent spectacle "Ben Hur," which created such a furore in Cincinnati, O., two years ago is to be staged again in that city for two weeks at the Grand Opera House, starting Monday evening, January 23d, special matinees are to be given on Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

The stage settings provided by Klaw & Erlanger in this impressive dramatic classic have never been equaled in this country. The pictures of "The Star of Bethlehem," "The City of Jerusalem" from the terrace garden of the palace of Hur in Judea, "The Interior of a Roman Gallery," "The Grove of Daphne," "The Fountain of Castalia," "The Chariot Race," "The Vale of Hinnon, and "The Mount of Olives" are remarkable exhibits of the best scenic art. To these are added some wonderful effects in lighting, as in "The Star of Bethlehem," and in stage mechanism, as shown in the thrilling chariot race. The contrivances that go to make up the chariot race cost more than $15,000. Eight horses run in full view of the audience.

The great scene which closes the play is the healing of the lepers on Mount Olive. Here hundreds of people are arranged in attractive groupings, the whole forming one of the most beautiful pictures ever put upon the stage. The personality of the Nazarene is not shown in the play, but in this scene the nearness of His presence is indicated with the most intense impressiveness by a shaft of the purest white light. The dramatization is carefully constructed so as to remove it from the domain of the so-called Passion plays, and while the Saviour is only referred to, yet His tremendous dominating power is felt with thrilling effect.

The advance sale of seats for the "Ben Hur" engagement will open in Cincinnati, on Thursday, January 19th, when mail orders for seats for any of the performances will be promptly filled in the order of their receipt, if accompanied with remittance and self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Address all communications to Rainforth & Havil, Managers Grand Opera House, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Educational Department

EDITED BY
W. O. HEADLEE, County Supt.

In the place of Mr. Headlee's articles on "Rush County's Birds," which will be discontinued for a time in order to allow Mr. Headlee an opportunity to make a further study of the birds, the Republican has added a new feature, the Educational Department, which will be edited by Mr. Headlee. The object of this new feature is to give the people an insight as to the school system, and its benefits, and to give them an opportunity to consider education as it should be.

EDUCATION.

We are all agreed that education is a good thing. Quite a large majority of parents are willing to give their children the best conveniently available; but only a very small percent are enthusiastic enough to make large sacrifices for the best, or to labor for a still better than we now have; especially since this calls, in the outset, for larger expenditures and consequently higher taxes.

Experience has long since taught us that the best is ultimately the cheapest, and this is true in education as well as in other things. The question naturally arises, "What is the best education?" No doubt if the answer to this question were more generally known in its fullest significance, there would be less indifference. The ordinary would cease to satisfy, and improvement would be ever and universally in demand.

The answer is not an easy one. Education is one of those broad, inclusive terms, which, like love, is easier to understand than to define. Writers on the subject do on entirely agree. Some say it is a process, others say it is a result. Some call it growth, others, a product. Some say it is mental training, others would call it the power that comes from mental training. Perhaps all are correct. It is largely a difference of viewpoint.

A score of definitions of varied length, by the greater thinkers might be given, but space will not permit. Herbert Spencer has thus put it in a nutshell, "Education is a preparation for complete living." This definition is broad enough to imply that education is that something which alone can fit the individual for the life he is to live, and that an individual lives much or little according to the extent of his education. This is as much as to say that when we deny a child opportunities for the best education possible to give him, we take from him so much of his life and are guilty in proportion to the extent of the crime.

If education is so vital a thing it is certainly worth our highest consideration, and we cannot be too enthusiastic in the support we give it.

Cuba Will Clean Up.

Havana, Jan. 10.—The first act of the house on the resumption of the session of the congress was the passage of the appropriation for the immediate sanitation of Cuban cities, the amount of which was raised by the senate to $326,000. The vote on the passage of the bill was 23 to 15.

The War in Africa.

Berlin, Jan. 10.—Lieutenant General Von Trotha, commander-in-chief of the forces in German Southwest Africa, cables that Major Meisler estimates the losses of the Witbois in the fights on Jan. 2, 3 and 4 at least eighty dead. The German losses have not yet been reported, owing to the difficulty experienced in heliographing. The Germans were unable to press their advantage on account of lack of ammunition.

In Darkness, Cold and Hungry. Huntington, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Ten thousand residents of Huntington who use gas were last night cold, hungry and groping in darkness as the result of the failure of the gas supply. A run on the hardware stores caused an increase in the price of stoves, lamps, candles and at last the exhaustion of all such articles in the city. A breakdown in the gas field is said to be the cause.

MARRIAGES ARE ILLEGAL

If Bride is Not a Resident of County Where License is Issued.

A decision handed down by the Supreme court of Indiana about fifty years ago, has been dug up by which a number of people who have been married in counties where the bride was not a resident may have a call to feel apprehensive. The decision held illegal marriage of a woman because she was a non-resident of the county where the license was issued. In that case a son by such a marriage claimed a share of his father's estate. Attorneys for children of a former marriage contended that there never had been a second marriage. The ruling was on the ground that the license was not issued in the county where the bride lived and that it was nowhere else issuable. A recent ruling of the attorney general and also of some of the circuit judges in the State are to the same effect.

There has been a number of people in this county who, when they desired to secure a marriage license, went to some other county and there represented that the woman in the case was a resident of the county in which the license was asked for. The law states that a woman must be a resident of a county for thirty days before she may be issued license to marry. The man who wishes to be married may live anywhere in the State, but the woman must live in the county where she receives the license to wed. The license is good anywhere in the State, but the return for the marriage must be made to the clerk of the county, where the license was issued.

This decision holding marriages illegal where the bride is not a resident of the county may put a damper on runaway marriages. It seems rather hard on some people who have been married for some time to have a decision come along by which it is held that their marriage is void but such is the case where the bride was not living in the county where the marriage license was issued which was used in the ceremony which made her a wife.
